See the flowers swinging in the summer breeze

Man, I wish you were here with me

With me

Didn't think you'd follow me all this way

But you did, even when the sky was grey

So grey

But it's too late, too late now

But it's too late, too late now

Woah!

I can feel you na na na na now

I can breathe you na na na na now

It's too late to run away from me

I can feel you na na na na now

I can breathe you na na na na now

It's too late to run away from me

Da da da

Woah, oh!

Have you seen the burdened rain

Trickle down your windowpane?

So plain

And when I see your beautiful smile

Oh it drives me wild

Yeah, so wild

But it's too late, too late now

But it's too late, too late now

Woah, oh!

I can feel you na na na na now

I can breathe you na na na na now

It's too late to run away from me

I can feel you na na na na now

I can breathe you na na na na now

It's too late to run away from me

See the flowers swinging in the summer breeze

Man, I wish you were here with me

With me

Didn't think you'd follow me all this way

But you did, even when the sky was grey

So grey

I can feel you na na na na now

I can breathe you na na na na now

It's too late to run away from me

I can feel you na na na na now

I can breathe you na na na na now

It's too late to run away from me

Too late to run

Too late to hide

Yeah yeah
